

In regard to the laser treatment for fungal nail disease I am delighted to report that after suffering this for a couple of yrs I was referred to Dr

He did several test to define, yes, it ~~as~~ a fungal ~~probly~~ problem and offered me the treatment which was not lengthy but time and very thorough. After a couple of month of new nail growth I am enjoying baby soft, fine nails not tough, split fall off ones as previous to the treatment and have a guarantee of it not being a problem.
